DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claim 2 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In lines 10-13, applicant should clarify the structure of the “protrusion that engages in a complimentary opening end force opening in the housing so that a predetermined length of the protrusion overlaps the opening so as to form a gap between the protrusion and the opening which is secure against ignition penetration.” It is not clear what applicant intends by “end force opening” and how the gap between the protrusion and the opening secure against ignition penetration.”

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claim 2, as best able to be understood in view of the rejections under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by DE 2926549.

Art Unit: 2832

DE 2926549 discloses a valve solenoid comprising:

- a housing [1] having first and second parts [figure 1];
- a coil [23];
- an iron circuit [13];
- a casing compound [4, 22] introduced into the first part of the housing embedding the iron circuit and coil; and
- connection elements [31, 31] arranged in the second housing part, wherein the second housing part is "configured to resist explosion pressure in case of an internal explosion and prevents transmission of the explosion to the environment;" and
- a cover [15] on an end of the second housing part to close the housing including protrusions [figure 1] that engages an end face of the second part to secure against ignition penetration.

Response to Arguments

5. Applicant's arguments filed 04-16-02 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicant argues:

- [1] the seal is not permissible in a pressure resistant environment;
- [2] the cap structure is not shown by DE2926549; and
- [3] DE2926549 does not show the flame proof environment.

Examiner disagrees:

Art Unit: 2832

Regarding [1] and [3]: Applicant has not specifically claimed a flame proof environment, applicant merely claims that an explosive atmosphere from reaching live portions of the solenoid. The seal would be permissible in the environment as claimed.

Regarding [3]: DE 2926549 discloses the cap overlapping and providing a seal with the second housing part.

Conclusion
